

James Crowe

Research Manager, Council of Institutional Investors

James Crowe became Research Manager in May 2023. Prior to CII, James worked at the Federal Reserve Board of Governors, the White House Office of Management and Budget, and the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau. He holds a doctorate in social work from the University of Southern California focused on financial capability and asset building; a master's degree from the University of Chicago Crown Family School of Social Work, Policy, and Practice; and a bachelor's degree in economics, mathematics and sociology from Emory University.